COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

The letter intended for publication this week will be held until next week in order that a communication addressed to teachers and school officers by State Superintendent Sam A. Baker, may be published. The communication of Mr. Baker is in part as follows:

"Through the courtesy of Mr. Albert S. Lehn, editor of the Missouri School Journal, I am permitted to address you through the columns of the Journal.

"I wish to express my appreciation for the many kind words and offers of co-operation in making my administration a success which have come from school men throughout the state. It is our intention to conduct the affairs of this office in such a manner as to obtain tangible results. The Department of Education is exceedingly busy and if the force of assistants were doubled, there would still be plenty of work for all. There has been some confusion, of course, due to the changes that took place early in January. Some county superintendents have not received their quarterly or their final examination questions as soon as they would like to have had them. Mr. Harrowood, the rural school inspector, who has charge of that matter, will see to it that in the future these questions are sent out on time. In fact, they will be sent ahead of time so that no county superintendent will be put to inconvenience in the matter of sending these questions to their teachers.

"A great many inquiries have come to this office regarding matters of legislation pertaining to the schools. A great many school people have asked for copies of bills and have asked that they be furnished information regarding every matter pertaining to schools that has come before the General Assembly. While we would be glad to accommodate all in this regard, it is a physical impossibility to do so. We will, however, furnish detailed information that may be called for.

"At present there are only two or three bills before the General Assembly affecting matters of education. The present Assembly is composed of men who are very desirous of giving to the school interests of the state the very best that is in their power. The educational committees of both House and Senate are composed of men who have the very best interests of the schools at heart. Senator Harrison of the Senate committee and Dr. Speer of the House committee are among the most influential members of the Assembly.

"I have sent circulars to the county superintendents bearing on the matter of making up lost time and the status of teachers who have been out of employment on account of the influenza. A bill is now before the legislature, and in all probability will pass, authorizing the State Superintendent of Schools to make the apportionment of the state funds, including state aid for this year, on the basis of last year's attendance. This will be fair to all, inasmuch as some schools have been closed a much longer time than others, and some a greater difficulty in making up the time that has been lost.

"I am considering the advisability of having the annual county superintendents' convention the last week in April, in order that they may have an opportunity to visit the General Assembly while it is still in session. If there is any good reason why the meeting should not be held at this time, I should be glad for those who read this article to so advise me.

"I, as State Superintendent, and all my assistants stand ready at all times to serve the school people and school interests to the very best of our ability. Do not hesitate to call on us at any time."

J. CLYDE AKERS,
County Supt. of Schools.

VAST RESORT PLANNED

Los Angeles, Calif., March 15.—One of the biggest real estate deals ever put over in California is now an assured fact and details can be furnished by the interested parties.

Mr. William Wrigley, Jr., manufacturer of the famous "Wrigley's Spearmint," one of the chief stockholders in the Chicago "Cubs" ball team and an officer and director in a total of fifteen enterprises in various parts of the U. S., is the head and controlling interest in a company which has taken over Santa Catalina Island. The purchase price is close to $4,000,000 and several millions more will be spent to make the island the great show place of the Pacific Coast.

Included in the transfer are practically all of the 48,000 acres of the land, the new $400,000 Ste. Catherine Hotel and its appurtenances, ten thousand head of sheep, two large steamers which ply between San Pedro and the Island, a fleet of glass-bottom power boats and other property of the Santa Catalina Island Company.

This news is of interest to every past, present and prospective visitor to California; in fact, it is of particular interest to the country at large, for it prefigures an era of expansion and development in our home resorts in keeping with the tendency to cultivate domestic tourist travel which the war has so strongly intensified.

The officers and directors of the new Santa Catalina Island Company are some of the most enterprising business men in Los Angeles county. The general manager is Everett H. Seaver, who directed the Fulton Shipyard at San Pedro during the war and who last year built successful wooden ships at astonishing speed for the government. Mr. Seaver's record as a builder of ships is equalled by his fame as an employer of labor, for in all his period of service at San Pedro there was no rumor of labor trouble.

David Blankenhorn, a well known Los Angeles business man, is president of the new company. He recently received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army where he ranked as captain.

"We intend to make Santa Catalina Island the greatest summer and winter resort in America," said Mr. Wrigley. "Development will progress as rapidly as possible and when business warrants we will put on more steamers. There is room for a half million new cottages on the island and a second new hotel is projected for early completion. It is my plan to make this gem of the Pacific a resort of such attractiveness that it will be the mecca for visitors from all parts of the country."

of them weighing a ton, sunning themselves and their young on the rocks. The bald-headed eagle perches himself on a crag and haughtily surveys the scene while a flock of stormy petrel scurry away before the boat's advance. Yonder on a cliff some mountain goats enjoy the scenery and herbage. Over and above all are the bluest of skies, reflected in the depths of the deep blue sea.

Mr. Wrigley, as the world's greatest chewing gum manufacturer, has been said to be one of the largest contributors to men's lasting enjoyment among all who make for creature comfort. His plans for the development of Santa Catalina Island for the tourists and pleasure seekers who flock to California's sun-kissed shores will entitle Mr. Wrigley in double measure to all the credit he has thus far attained as the most extensive purveyor of America's own famous confection—the stick with the flavor that lasts.

"Just as we have looked to advertising to build up our business," said Mr. Wrigley, "so shall we make known the fame of Catalina Island. The power of the press is one of the world's greatest agents of advancement. Without advertising it might take twenty years to accomplish what advertising makes possible in one."

IRRITABLE NERVOUS

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Card-u-i, the Woman's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeier, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Cardui. But I was not always this way. I think I have taken a dozen bottles before my little girl came."

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy. I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Cardui about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Cardui at all. It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Cardui has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Cardui a fair trial. Miss Viola Elvins completed her work in the shorthand department last week. She expects to accept a position in her home city.

Miss Freda Trauernicht passed her final test in the shorthand department, taking a special test last Saturday. She expects to do some post-graduate work before accepting a position.

Miss Golda Fitzgerald and Miss Rachel Murrill returned last week; Miss Fitzgerald began work in the shorthand department, while Miss Murrill is increasing her speed in both shorthand and typewriting.

Miss Aldine Palmer of Doe Run called Saturday and expects to enter not later than the first of next week, and will come in the latter part of this week if possible.

Miss Beryl and Leotta Faulkner were visitors last week. Miss Beryl expects to enter as soon as she can perfect arrangements.

Miss Mabel Pickrel of St. Louis returned Monday, after a short visit home with a cousin whom she had not seen for eight years previously.

Miss Della Hawn entered last week in the Stenotypy department and is doing nicely, although she is able to attend only half days.

Raymond L. Sigman left this week for St. Louis and will begin next Monday morning in a position offering unlimited possibilities for the future.

Forgot What He Needed.

From the Republican, Mt. Gilead, Ohio: "The editor had an interesting experience some time ago, when a young gentleman came to this office and asked for a copy of the Morrow County Republican. He scrutinized it carefully when a copy was handed him, and then said: 'Now I know!' 'What is it you are looking for,' we inquired. 'My wife sent me after a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I forgot the name. I went to several stores and the clerks named over everything in the line on the shelf except Chamberlain's. I'll try again, and I'll never go home without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.' The Republican would suggest to the proprietors of stores, that they post their clerks, and never let them substitute. Customers lose faith in stores where substituting is permitted, to say nothing of the injustice to makers of good goods and the disappointment of customers. Obtainable everywhere."

I AM COMING HOME, MOTHER

I am coming home Mother, dear,
Yes, your boy is drawing near
From the battle-fields where Yankees chased the Hun;
I am glad the strife is o'er
And I sail for home's sweet shore,
But I helped to show the Kaiser he must run.

Chorus:

I am coming home, dear Mother,
While you gladly watch and wait;
There you stand with faithful Dad
Watching for your soldier lad,
And I know that you will meet him at the gate.

How I love the dear old home,
Far from which I had to roam,
To be faithful to my Uncle Sammy's call;
I long for sister mighty bad,
And to see my dear old Dad,
But I long to see my mother first of all.
